Indian Apparel Snapshot

Indian textiles and apparels have a history of fine craftsmanship and global appeal. Cotton, silk and denim from India are highly popular abroad, and with the upsurge in Indian design talent, Indian apparel too has found success in the fashion centres of the world.

India is the world's second-largest manufacturer and exporter of textiles and apparels, with a massive raw material and manufacturing base. The industry is a significant contributor to the economy, both in terms of its domestic share and exports. It contributes to 7% of industry output in value terms, 2 % of India's GDP and 13.3% of the country's total exports earnings. The sector is the second largest employment provider in the country, employing about 45 million people directly. The apparel and garment sector provides employment to 11.22 million people.

Export Highlights

- Total textile and apparel exports stood at US$ 36.6 billion during 2016 -17, contributing 13.3 per cent to India's exports worth US$ 276.3 billion.
- Ready-made garments (RMG) exports from India stood at US$ 17.5 billion in FY 2016-17.
- The ready-made garment segment contributed 48 per cent to Indian textile exports in 2016-17.
- India's share in global trade of textiles and apparels is 4.7 per cent.
- India is the largest cotton producer in the world (34.5 million bales)
- It is the second largest producer of manmade fibre and filament in the world (2.52 million kg production in FY 2016-17)
- Main markets for Indian textile and apparel exports are: The US European Union Parts of Asia Middle East LAC
