Dubai Weather- August:

Weather-wise, November is considered one of the best times to visit Dubai. Dubai is hot, dry and windy year round, but the cooler November temperatures of around 18°C to 31°C mean there's very little humidity. There's also very little rainfall, just 0.2 inches expected over the entire month.

Transport within Dubai:

Bus

The bus network in Dubai is run by the Roads and Transport Authority. These buses connect all the major landmarks and tourist spots of the city and are very comfortable.

Metro

This is one of the most commonly used and efficient modes of public transport in Dubai. It does connect to the Dubai Airport – and some of the major tourist destinations such as the Mall of the Emirates and the Burj Khalifa.

Taxis

Taxis are a convenient way of getting around Dubai. Easily available throughout the city, you will always find a long line waiting outside shopping malls and other attractions. Starting with a minimum of Dh 3, the fare increases at a rate of Dh 1.60 per kilometer.

Water Bus

This is an economical and preferred way to travel from Bur Dubai to Deira and vice versa. Fares for the water buses range from Dh 1 – Dh 4, depending on the route you take.

Driving

Vehicles are driven on the right side of the road and you need to have a credit card and a domestic and international driver's license if you wish to hire a car in Dubai. However, this is not recommended due to the several traffic congestions which are expected throughout the day.

Abras

Dubai's quaint mix of new and old is nowhere more evident than in its simple, wooden water taxis that cruise along the 10-meter Creek, transporting people across.

Water taxis

Whereas the abra is confined to navigating the Creek, Dubai's relatively new fleet of water taxis, operated by the RTA, are able to navigate the waters of the Arabian Gulf.

Dubai Ferry

The Dubai Ferry is as much a tourist thing to do as it is a public transport system, allowing visitors and residents to view the city from the sea and get a glimpse of some of Dubai's iconic buildings.

Dubai Tram

The Tram is a rail system that is part of a modern integrated public transport system that provides efficient and quick access to the densely populated areas of Jumeirah Beach Residence, Dubai Marina, and the business areas along Al Sufouh street.

Palm Jumeirah Monorail

The Palm Monorail is a privately-owned transport system designed to take tourists or residents from one end of the Palm to the other.

Dubai International Airport

Dubai International Airport is a hub for Emirates and FlyDubai and has a large duty-free shopping center. The airport has won numerous awards for its excellence in design and services.
