MARKET ANALYSIS

The dental industry continues to be one of the strongest targets for development of new 3D printers, materials, and applications. Conversely, challenges in the 3D printing industry as a whole were weathered in part thanks to a continuing acceptance of digital technologies in the dental world. Dental professionals from every corner of the market now agree that digital dentistry is the way of the future. Dental care is a $100+ billion, non-cyclical market, with strong underlying fundamentals driving continued robust growth. Dental care expenditures are expected to reach $122 billion in 2016E, representing an annual average growth rate of 5.8% since 1990, despite the impact of two recessions during this time. Expenditures are expected to expand by 5.7% annually through 2022P, reaching $191 billion, as a result of: favorable demographic trends, Expansion of dental insurance coverage, escalating demand for cosmetic and elective dentistry. Dental insurance coverage is the largest driver of dental care utilization, as nearly 80% of individuals with dental insurance visit the dentist each year, compared to 54% of those without.
