GLOBAL PLASTIC SURGERY MARKET REPORT

Plastic surgery in its broader sense is to restore and enhance of the aesthetic appearance of an individual. Plastic Surgery can be broadly segmented in two based on the purpose of surgeries; reconstructive surgery and Aesthetic procedures & Cosmetic surgery. : Reconstructive Surgery in its broader sense, is to reconstruct parts of body parts. It can be classified into various sectors like Nose(Rhinoplasty), eye lid (Blepharoplasty), tummy tuck(Abdominoplasty) and so on. Aesthetic surgery includes in altering the appearance of a body part. While a patient has no choice in case of reconstructive surgery, aesthetic surgery can be the light in the dark.

As per the market research of 2017 by Market research Future, the market for cosmetic surgery is expected to reach $ 21.97 billion by the end of with CAGR of ~7.8% during 2017-2023

The market growth Factors :

There are several growth factors for the market growth of Plastic & Cosmetic Surgery :

1. Health factors : With the rise of technology we are facing several health issues like obesity, accidents and many more which is one of the main growing factors of Cosmetic Surgery market.
2. Social and Cultural Factors : Social impact is also one of the main growth factor to increase the market of Cosmetic Surgery. There are many impacts such as influence of media, fashion and film industry, peer pressure for appearance and beauty, changing dimensions of beauty etc.

3. Technological factors : With the development of technology, we are moving one by one steps towards advancements, with the flow of technology we are also changing our self with the development of advanced materials like silicone implants and so on.
4. Economic factors : Now day by day the income per capita is increasing, it is also a key growth factor for the high cost cosmetic surgeries.

There are also some factors which can be threaten for the growth of Cosmetic surgery market :

1. Non-essential nature of cosmetic surgery.
2. Social taboos against violation of body parts.
3. High cost of cosmetic surgeries despite reduction.
4. Lack of skills and skilled professionals who can to perform the procedures, which can be due to the market needs of providing all the procedures in a single clinic.

As per the plastic surgery statistics released in 2017 by ISAPS- International society of aesthetic and plastic surgery, the increase in procedures show the potential in the global market of plastic surgery.

- By 2018, the worldwide market for aesthetic/reconstructive surgeries will be $10.7 billion.
