About Retreat

HR function is under pressure to keep up with disruptive changes in technology, business models and talent market. The kind of skills needed by enterprises are changing and the market for talent is going digital. The workplace is now shared by people and autonomous machines and focus is more on disruptive creativity than on steady operations. There is an urgent need for a radical reinvention of HR's tools and methods and to think afresh about of employee hiring, training, evaluation and engagement.

The Retreat will focus on the challenges being faced by HR in the new business landscape and the ways to modernize HR for a strategic role in business growth. The programme would include sessions with experts on developing a range of new HR competencies including automation of HR processes, data analytics and use of artificial intelligence in employee acquisition, development and engagement.

Methodology

The format of the Retreat will include interactive sessions, case studies, talks by inspirational leaders and more. It will bring together 20-25 CHRO's, Senior HR Professionals, and Decision Makers from across the industry for a dialogue with the CEOs and HR Leaders.
