About The Expo

We've had enough of business as usual. It's time for us to take our place at the top. To do that, we need the right resources, insights, and network. That's why we put together the Minnesota Women's Small Business Expo.

Access to resources, products, and advice: We have thoughtfully selected the people participating in the expo to be valuable and useful connections for you. We have top quality providers who work with small businesses and provide great value in the products and services they represent, and are friendly to work with, too!

Expert guest speakers: We have seven business experts lined up to speak on topics that will help you run and grow your business, be your best self, and handle it all with grace.

Network with other women business owners: There's nothing better than connecting with like-minded women who get your world. We've created the space for you to make those connections to expand your network, and grow your business. Who knows - you just might find your next great vendor, client, or friend there.

This year, we're featuring a keynote talk by Three-time Bestselling Author, Award winning Entrepreneur and Sales Expert – Ursula Mentjes. She'll also be around for a book signing of her latest book, The Belief Zone.
