"Logistics and Other Economic Challenges in the Post-Pandemic Era"

CALL FOR PAPERS

In 2013, the Chinese Government initiated an ambitious project of restoring the Silk Road Economic Belt and the 21st-Century Maritime Silk Road, known as One Belt and One Road, and now known as the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI). The BRI has far-reaching implications for trade, transport infrastructure, requirement of new transport policy framework, digitalization and logistics in the Central Asian region.

To analyse these implications, the 6th Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) Conference is organised and invites all academic professionals, government policy makers and practitioners, to participate in this international virtual conference to exchange views and insights into the logistics and other economic implications of this initiative.

To learn more about our sub-themes for this conference and other information related to this virtual conference, you can click the following link: <https://bricon2021.uz/#>.

This is indeed a unique opportunity to share your views and insights on this issue which is not only of concern to Central Asia but also to the rest of the world. At the end of this conference, the best papers will be selected for possible inclusion in a book to be published by a reputable and internationally recognised publisher.

Thank you and looking forward to your active participation.
